History

Last Frontier Healthcare District, located in the remote northeastern part of Northern California, began operations as early as the 1900's, and was formally operating as a district in 1951. In 2010, Modoc Medical Center (MMC) transitioned away from being operated by Modoc County to being the Last Frontier Healthcare District by approval of a ballot measure, which allowed the district to operate as its own entity, separate from the County. MMC is a 16-bed, critical access hospital providing emergency services, offering family practice medicine, and operating a skilled nursing facility in addition to other ancillary services. The community heavily relies on the services of MMC, as residents of the Alturas area have to travel a minimum of two hours to receive services at a full-service hospital.
